BUNGALOW WITH CONTENTS IS PREY TO THE FLAMES

Home of John Wehner at North Charleroi is Destroyed

ESCAPE THROUGH WINDOW

Fire Not Discovered by Inmates Until It Had Great Headway

By fire of unknown origin the bungalow of John Wehner on Center avenue, Lockview, with all its contents was destroyed this morning between 2 and 3 o'clock. Mr. Wehner and his wife and baby escaped in their nightclothes through a rear window. The loss is about $5,000 or $5,500 fully covered by insurance.

When Mr. Wehner and his family discovered the conflagration the house was enveloped in flames. By considerable effort they were able to work their way through to a rear window and edge their way out. An alarm was quickly spread, and the fire soon upon the scene. A distress call was sent in to the Charleroi fire department, and about 20 firemen under Chief J. M. Fleming, went from here to the scene of the fire.

It was an absolute impossibility to save the bungalow and efforts were turned toward saving other buildings not far distant.

Mr. Wehner, who is a Macbeth-Evans worker built the bungalow last year. He equipped it handsomely, moving into the home the first of October. Previous to that he lived on Fallowfield avenue, Charleroi.

Insurance on the building and its contents was carried in two companies, one represented by H. C. Hepler, of Charleroi and the other by the Fayette City Real Estate company.

RACES SCHEDULED FOR SANDY PLAINS

B. Frank Emery Arranges Program for Track Meet in August

B. Frank Emery, secretary of the Sandy Plains Fair Association, was over this way last week looking after the interests of the forthcoming fair which will be held at Sandy Plains Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, August 8, 9, and 10. The half mile track there is considered one of the best, and the purses to be distributed will amount to over $1,950.

At the present time 23 head of horses are in the stables at the fair grounds training for the events. On Tuesday and Wednesday the association will pull off five events each day, something unprecedented in county fair annals. These extra attractions are a big feature, and will add greatly to the interest.

Sand and gravel to be used in the construction of the new North Charleroi school building is being received now and hauled to the site. The excavating has practically been finished.

Fish From Dam at Lock No. 4

Little Water Going Over Dam Now—Splash Boards Being Utilized

The sight of boys fishing in the middle of the river from the dam at Lock No. 4 is a sight which greets people at that place nowadays. The dam is as dry as though water hadn't touched it for a year, except in places where the water manages to get through splash boards put up by government employees some time ago in order to maintain full pools. The stage of water now at the lock is about 10 feet 3 inches. The pool can get as low as 8 feet 8 inches and if the dry spell continues there is a likelihood that it will be that low. To preserve the water as much as possible in the upper pools the splash boards were put on the dam.

LUTHERANS GET FLAG

All-Important Contest Goes to Mason's Team by Score of 4 to 3

EPISCOPALS FIGHT HARD

Snatching two runs in the seventh inning, after they had tied up the score the Lutherans beat the Episcopalians in the biggest and most important struggle this year in the Church league race Wednesday evening by the score of 4 to 3. A desperate effort was made by the Episcopalians to pull things their own way in the seventh, but the best they could do was to get one lone tally. The only actual earned runs were on the Lutherans side of the fence—three of them. A better fielding game was played by the Episcopalians behind Bragg, who made the Lutherans hump to beat the band to win, than by the Lutherans behind Miller, who was also in rare slab form. Miller suffered the Episcopalians to get just five hits. The story of the game:

For the Episcopalians in the first Johnson was out on a bounder to first. Righter singled to right. Kuhn sacrificed. Guder hit a fly to right which Wertz suffered to pass through his gloved grabber and Righter scored. Guder stole second and went third on Fleming's error, scoring when Cratty landed on the ball for two sacks.

After that there wasn't a man got farther than second base on either team until the fourth inning. Then Butz for the Lutherans hit a two bagger between first and second, stole third and waited until two had struck out. Stech doubled to right, Butz scoring. With Motts and Patton to the tall and uncut by way of healthy swings at the atmosphere. Fleming got second when Montgomery let his fly drop. He scored on (Continued on Second Page).

WILL GO AHEAD WITH BROWNSVILLE BRIDGE

County Commissioners Hold Meeting and Decide to Act Upon Advice of Court on the Matter

FAYETTE AND WASHINGTON COUNTY PEOPLE ATTEND

The county commissioners at the joint conference at Brownsville Wednesday afternoon agreed to go ahead with the erection of the proposed new bridge over the river between West Brownsville and Brownsville on the old site.

All members of both boards of commissioners were present. From this county there was Commissioner John A. Berry, Thomas Hill and W. J. Smith, and Solicitor Isaac W. Baum, and Engineer George Chaney. From Fayette county were Commissioners J. Ed. Langley, E. H. McClelland and W. S. Blayney, and Solicitor R. F. Hopwood and Controller Harry Kisinger. The commissioners, solicitor and engineer made the trip over to the river in an automobile.

A number of persons from both Fayette and Washington county sides of the river were present at the meeting which was held at the Bar house, Brownsville.

PHILADELPHIA FIRM GETS THE CONTRACT

Bridge Construction Over Monongahela River Near State Line to be Started At Once

WORK CONTINUES ON RAILROAD TO BUCKHANNON

It was officially announced Wednesday that the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad extension from Martin to the West Virginia state line, where it connects with the Buckhannon & Northern railroad, will be completed within a year and in operation. This road's completion means the development of thousands of acres of Greene county and West Virginia coal.

The contract was let Wednesday for the masonry for the big steel bridge that is to span the Monongahela river at a point one mile south of the mouth of George's creek and one mile north of Dunkard Creek. The contract was let to McMenamin & Sims, a Philadelphia concern, and a large force of men will be put to work on the contract at once. The contracting firm expects to have piers and abutments of the bridge completed by December 1, this year.

The contract for the superstructure will be let within 60 days. The bridge will be a double track steel structure. The contract for the grading of the road from Martin to the West Virginia State line has not been let. The company figures that it can be built in four months and is in no hurry to give out this part of the contract.

In West Virginia work on the Buckhannon & Northern road is progressing very rapidly. All the masonry on the road has been completed and nearly all the grading is done. The contractors will rush the work through the summer and fall and will work it as the weather will permit during the winter. This part of the contract will be completed long before August of next year.

SCHOOL LAWS INTERPRETED

State Department of Public Instruction Answers Questions of Local Board

In response to the inquiry of Ira L. Nickeson, secretary of the Charleroi Board of Education, A. D. Glenn, deputy superintendent of Public Instruction has informed him regarding the levying of taxes, the vaccination law and the collection of taxes, as authorized by the new school code. There had been some misunderstanding of the code on these matters.

Mr. Glenn says that the tax is levied in the same manner this year as last year—it is done under the old law and the building and school taxes are levied separately and the occupation tax is $1 on each male taxable. There is no change in the vaccination laws. The school tax will be collected under the new law which allows no rebates for prompt payment and a penalty of five per cent is added for non-payment on the first of October.

DEAF MUTE PULLS COAT TO FIGHT

Angered at Refusal of Local Men to Give Aid He Signals for Battle

His request for financial help refused by two men at the corner of Sixth street and McKean avenue Wednesday, a deaf and dumb man with plentiful troubles, he writes in keeping the wolf from the door, waved aloft his battle sign and signaled that he wanted to fight. He pulled his coat and was for going into the fray hammer and tongs but his career as a pugilist was cut short by the timely arrival of Chief of Police C. W. Albright.

This morning he had a brand new signal. He was in distress and although still as deaf and dumb as ever, plead through ready pencil and handy pad to be discharged. He said he had a wife and four children to support in Cleveland, Ohio, and added a postscript that maybe he had a "drop too much."

Burgess Risbeck heard his story this morning and told him to get out of town.

SMALL BOY DROWNS IN RIVER AT BELLE VERNON

Twilight Opens Its New Bridge

Celebration Being Held to Dedicate Structure Constructed by County

Twilight people are celebrating today the opening of a new county bridge at that place. A basket picnic is a feature. People from various parts of the county are in attendance, among them being Richard G. Miller, Esq., of Washington, who is a candidate for district attorney. This afternoon there will be a number of athletic events held.

WANT NEW NIGHT CARS

Petitions Being Signed for All-Night Service From Pittsburgh

CIRCULATED GENERALLY

A petition is being circulated among Charleroi business men and citizens today, which when sufficient signatures have been secured will be presented with others circulated in other nearby towns, to the Pittsburgh Railways Company asking that an all night service be instituted between Pittsburgh and Charleroi. The all night service as petitioned for would require two more cars each way to and from the city. One to leave Pittsburgh at 1:30 o'clock and another at 3:30 o'clock. Cars to leave this end at the same time or about the same time. At present the last car leaves Pittsburgh at 11:30, and there are no other cars after that until 5:30 in the morning. It is argued that the patronage would be sufficient to warrant the service.

Get Big Timbers.

Timbers of an average length of 80 feet are being received at the government yards at North Charleroi now to be used in the construction of the new dredge boat. The timbers which come from Oregon are already prepared for use. The longest are 85 feet.

Lawn Fete as Benefit.

The Epworth League is planning a lawn fete to be held Friday evening on the lawn of H. J. Booth, Fifth street and Crest avenue. It will be held as a benefit for the Epworth League.

Will Hold Meeting Tonight.

Representatives of the various Sunday Schools arranging for the union picnic and outing to be held at Eldora Park, August 3, will hold a meeting tonight at the Methodist Episcopal church at 8:30 o'clock.

Lewis Layton Supposed to Have Fallen From Float

HAD BEEN OUT PLAYING

Busy Mother Thought He Was Near Home Until She Went to Call Him.

Playing about on a float in the river, it is supposed, Lewis Layton, the six year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Layton, of Belle Vernon, lost his balance and falling into the river was drowned Wednesday. No one saw the accident, which is supposed to have happened at about 10:50 o'clock.

The boy left home about 10 o'clock his mother thinking he was going out as usual to play with some other boys near the house. Being busy she took no particular notice of him for the time being, but when she went to look for him to call him for dinner he was nowhere to be found. A search was instituted, but it was not thought that he had gone to the river. Not until some hours had passed was it learned that he had been seen going in that direction.

Then the work of dragging the river near an old float just above the Belle Vernon bridge was started and about 4 o'clock the little fellow's body was found. His mother was well nigh hysterical by this time, and the discovery of his body in the water only served to add to her grief.

Mr. Layton, who is a glass worker was employed at Point Marion and way away. The boy was the only child of the Laytons, and a popular little fellow.

NORTH CHARLEROI HAS COMPLAINTS

Claimed That Health Laws Are Being Violated—Want Active Health Officer

According to a number of persons at North Charleroi an active health officer is needed, and needed badly. There is a Board of Health but apparently without the assistance of a health inspector or a health officer of some sort, the Board of Health can do little. Complaints have been made of stables and such things. Property owners claim that there is much need of a cleaning up and allege that State Health laws are being violated.

EPISCOPAL SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNICING

The Sunday School of the Episcopal church is holding its annual picnic and outing at Beechwood park, near Speers today and there is a big number in attendance. Sports and games of various kinds was a feature. A basket dinner was also a feature.

UPHOLDING THE LAW.

From time to time the local chief
of police and other officials register
complaints that citizens do not support them in upholding and enforcing
the law, particularly the borough ordinances. It is charged that many individual citizens whenever they, or any one in whom they are interested
come in conflict with any of the regulations, become most strenuous opponents of the officials whose duty
it is to compel enforcement. Only a short time ago the chief of police
was soundly berated by a couple of frate mothers because he endeavored to compel their children to obey the curfew law.

All this is contrary to the spirit of citizenship as well as law and order.
The policeman or official who openly
permits friends or personal interests
to ignore the laws the officials are
sworn to enforce is most culpable
and becomes an offender himself
against the law. It is this spirit and
policy that has resulted in the corruption of cities and towns. The citizen who expects the officials to permit his children to disobey the
curfew law, or to permit one citizen
to disregard the provisions of the building or borough license ordinances while enforcing it on others, is in the same category as the one who
goes farther and attempts to corrupt the police by the payment of money for protection of vicious institutions. There may be different degrees of culpability, just as there
are different degrees in convictions
for murder, but one violation leads
up to another, and the policeman who
can ease his conscience sufficiently to permit a friend or neighbor to wilfully violate an ordinance designed
for the protection of the public, can usually go a little further and accept perquisites for violations of a graver
nature.

It is up to every good citizen to support the police and other officials
in the enforcement of the borough ordinances. These are enacted for the public good, and if it has been found by experience that some of the
ordinances inflict a hardship instead
of a public benefit they should be promptly repealed. No citizen is entitled to discrimination, and any attempt in this direction is an effort to set law and order at defiance and is diametrically opposed to the best interests of citizenship.

SCIENTIFIC MANAGEMENT.

We are reading much these days
about scientific management in business and industry, the management
that marks for increase of efficiency
and elimination of waste. It has been a long accepted axiom of business that a large part of the cost in
the production of an article or commodity is waste—waste of time and
material—which has to be charged
up nevertheless to the cost price of
the commodity, and the consumer
pays for it all. The man who soldiers on the job and watches the
clock, and the one who is careless
and wastes a minimum of material
each day, are the ones who are putting up the cost of living just as
surely as the board of managers
who arbitrarily fix the selling price
of a commodity.

For instance, if one thousand men
are working in a factory, and each one of them kills time to the amount
of ten minutes a day, the equivalent
of pay for twenty unproductive
eight-hour days has to be charged
up to the cost price of the commodity.
In a year the cost of unproductive
labor for which no return is given,
and which has to enter in the cost to
be paid for by the consumer, is enormous. If each one of these one thousand workmen wastes two cents'
worth of material a day, the additional cost price to the product for which no return is given amounts to
over $6,000 in a year which the consumer has to pay.

It is an effort to eliminate this
waste of time and material that has led up to scientific management. It cannot be made effective until all employees enter heartily into the spirit.
There is some opposition on the part
of workmen to try to adopt this system on the grounds that it will lead
to "speeding up," but it is a matter
of vital interest to every workman
as it enters very materially in the cost of his living expenses.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

A traveling man in town this week
relates a poker story that came under his observation a few nights ago
in a West Virginia town. When the traveler arrived in town late, he sought one of his patrons it was essential to see that evening. Being informed that the man was at a certain resort where congenial spirits
congregated to pass the time away,
he repaired thither, and dropped in
just as a quartet around the table—
his friend included—was making a draw to open a jack pot. The traveling man's friend asked for three cards, which were handed out. The visitor overlooked his friend's
shoulder and observed that the latter
held two aces. Then when the three cards were turned up they showed two aces and a king, which
gave him four aces.

"Great Scott!" ejaculated the visitor, in amazement at the value of the hand.

At this, each of the other three players laid down their hands none of which exceeded the four aces. The winner drew in the pot, which contained only about $25, but he remarked to his friends:

"Look here, Smith, I'm awfully
glad to see you, but I wish you had
postponed your visit for half an hour.
I'd probably been a couple of hundred
more to the good on that pot if you hadn't dropped in just when you did."

Dale Joliffe pulled off one on John McIlvaine, when that popular ball
player departed last week for Piqua,
Ohio, to pitch for that team in the
O. & P. League. "Mac" was instructed to take a sleeping car from Pittsburg, and as he has not traveled much in that way Dale proceeded
to coach him.

"Watch the porter, Mac," said
Dale. "He's the guy that's after your coin. If you want to stand up and stretch, wait until the porter goes into the next car. Just as surely as he sees you standing up and stretching he'll come and brush you off, and
that will cost you a quarter."

"All right," said Mac, "I'll sneak
a fast one over on him when he ain't
looking."

"And another thing, Mac," said

Dale, "if you appear sleepy and lean
back in the corner, the porter will bring you a pillow and that will cost
you another two bits."

"Do I keep the sack?" asked Mac.

"No, you have to return it."

"Well, he won't catch me napping.
If I draw a sack, it's got to count in the game. You watch me. I'll make
a homer all right."

Why Is It Done?

This thing of appointing boys who
never saw a bridge built in their lives and who do not know a limestone from a sand stone as inspectors
of bridges is a species of waste which
the taxpayers should not tolerate.
The county will save money if a competent mechanic is selected to supervise the building of each bridge, even if it is necessary to pay him more than is paid the boys. Likewise honest and experienced men should be chosen as road inspectors when it is necessary that inspectors be employed.—Washington Observer.

Wonderful Memory.
"There seems something more speakingly incomprehensible in the powers, the failures, the inequalities of memory, than in any other of our intelligences. The memory is sometimes so retentive, so serviceable, so obedient; at others, so bewildered and so weak; and at others again, so tyrannic, so beyond control."—Jane overture of universal emancipation;

it excludes no one. The beginning of liberty is the discovery of the beautifulness and the infinite succor of death. There can be no freedom among men who are afraid to die;
and a people to whom success is necessary cannot build a city that is great. The cities of the world—New York, London, Paris—are provincial;
we have yet to build a metropolis—
a city of the soul—a city whose citizens are not afraid of death—a capital of democracy. Death is the re-vealer of the soul; therefore death is the great democrat."—Charles Fer-

Miller's double. Then came the heart-rending strain. In the fifth Kuhn worked as far as third for the Episcopalians, but at the crucial moment Guder hit a fly to second and spoiled his chance to score.

Patton fouled out in the seventh. Fleming looked at one seriously enough to get a safety to left. He went second on Miller's sacrifice foul fly. Butz placed a solid bouncer past first and Fleming scored. Butz stole second Joe Mason with his mighty black bat, a trusty weapon which has brought victory for his team more than once, stepped to the plate and calmly landed on the pill for two bases. Butz scored. Mason was caught third.

But the Episcopal half had something on them all for a heart-rending period. Miller suffered Bragg, first up, to go to first unmolested through a gift of four balls. Johnson was afforded the same opportunity. Righter struck out. Kuhn hit to second and Butz captured Johnson at that corner. This performance put Bragg on third. Kuhn started to steal second and Fleming threw to Butz who mislaid the ball long enough for Bragg to come home. Butz threw wildly to the home pan and Kuhn went third. With Guder at bat, two out, and a man on third base the suffering of fans became intense. But there was little occasion for it. For the first time this season in that kind of a place Joe Guder failed, by putting up a foul fly which was easily captured. Score:

BASEBALL BINGLES

Oh! somewhere in this favored land
The sun is shining bright,
And somewhere there is joyousness
And somewhere is delight!
And somewhere the band is playing
And somewhere the people shout,
But there's no joy 'mong Episcopalians
For McCloskey has fanned out!

With Apologies to Casey

All hail the new Church League
Champions—the Lutherans!

Last night after a terrific grapple with last year's Champs. Manager McCloskey's Episcopalians, the Lutherans flung the 1911 pennant to the breeze with a loud huzzza.

Over 700 howling fans attended last evening's session and they surely got their money's worth. Joe Mason's warriors were again greatly weakened by the absence of the first baseman, Charles Mason, while the Episcopalians presented their very strongest front of the season. Nevertheless the Lutheran braves dashed into the fray with their well-known never-say-die spirit, and after the Episcopalians had acquired what looked like a winning lead—back came Joe Mason's peppery cohorts and by a beautiful rally in the final inning snatched victory and the pennant all in one swoop. "Eddie" Butz and "Joe" Mason swatted Bragg for the fatal bingles which decided the 1911 championship in the Charleroi Church League.

The largest crowd of the season was at the game.

Jenkins was out of the struggle for the Episcopalians. Hess, formerly of the Washington Avenues, being at second bag.

Wertz dropped Guder's fly, but how it managed to slip through his hands is a question. They are usually in a well when they go in his direction.

Sharkey seemed to be a trifle rusty in left.

Of all the funny antics pulled off in any game this season, Joe Mason's caper in the sixth was the most peculiar. Bragg heaved a wild one to the inside of the plate which came near hitting the Lutheran coach. Joseph, or Herbert, as his real name looks in print, deliberately walked across the plate and gently laid down on the outside. The stunt was done partly to relieve the tension of his pitcher. He was presented with a walk.

The Episcopalians had a mascot—little Billie Atkins, son of William H. Atkins of Berryman's store. The little fellow had on a suit and carried bats and threw balls to his heart's content. He attracted attention but couldn't seem to bring victory.

YOUR KIDNEYS NEED CLEANING

Every Person, Healthy or Unhealthy,
Ought to Give the Kidneys a Thorough Cleaning Right
Now.

You clean your teeth daily. You wouldn't think of doing otherwise, and yet the teeth are not one tenth so important to health, strength and a long life as the kidneys.

Do you know that the kidneys are little strainers or fine sieves, through which every drop of blood in the body passes again and again.

And when the kidneys become clogged they are unable to strain the impure matter from the blood and it stays in the blood and causes disease in various parts of the body. Take rheumatism, for instance, this terrible disease is caused by uric acid in the blood, and uric acid gets into the blood only when the kidneys are clogged up and are unable to properly strain the impurities.

Just go to W. F. Hennings' today and get a bottle of Thompson's Barosma, the most scientific kidney, liver and bladder regulator the world has ever known, take it regularly for two weeks and all the impure matter in your kidneys will pass out through the bladder and your kidneys will be as pure and clean and healthy as any kidneys can be.

Thompson's Barosma is guaranteed by W. F. Hennings' to cure all diseases of the kidneys, liver, and bladder, or money back. It is a wonderful tonic and blood purifier and will bring the glow of health to the cheeks of the sick in a short time. 50 cents and $1.00 a bottle. All druggists.

Owes Health and Happiness

to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Scottville, Mich.—"I want to tell you how much good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done me. I live on a farm and have worked very hard. I am forty-five years old, and am the mother of thirteen children. Many people think it strange that I am not broken down with hard work and the care of my family, but I tell them of my good friend, your Vegetable Compound, and that there will be no backache and dragging pains for them if they will take it as I have. I am scarcely ever without it in the house.

"I will say also that I think there is no better medicine to be found for young girls to build them up, regulate, and make them well. My eldest daughter has taken the Compound for painful, irregular periods, and it has always helped her.

"I am always ready and willing to speak a good word for the Lydia E. Pinkham's Remedies. I tell every one I meet that I owe my health and happiness to these wonderful medicines."—Mrs. J. G. Johnson, Scottville, Mich., R. F. D. 3.

When shown such positive and reliable proof that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound really does cure such cases wouldn't any sensible woman conclude that the same remedy would also benefit her if suffering the same?

MORE GENUINE AND CONVINCING PROOF:

Elwood, Ind.—"I was sick three months and could not walk. I suffered all the time. I tried doctors, and they said I could not get well without an operation. I could hardly stand the pain, but my right side was the worse. I couldn't sleep at night, and I was troubled with a weakness.

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured me. I began to feel better when I had taken only one bottle, but I kept on until I was cured."—Mrs. Sadie Mullen, 2728 N. B. Street, Elwood, Ind.

What more proof can any one ask?

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health free of charge. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

To Live 140 Years.
The natural term of man's life, arguing from the logic and evidence of comparative zoology, is 140 years—and even this is not the limit.

Life is a promissory note due one day after date, payable on demand, but by right living we can defer payment almost indefinitely.

Eminent scientists tell us that—
The life of the bones is 5,000 years.
The life of the lungs is 1,500 years.
The life of the skin is 900 years.
The life of the liver is 400 years.
The life of the kidneys is 300 years.
The life of the heart is 300 years.
If 300 years is the life of the heart, then one could not have the heart to live after that.

The Hindus, in the development of the physical man, claim for him not only longevity, but immunity from disease. They say to him: "He is determined not to fall sick, and he never does. He lives long, a hundred years is nothing to him; he is quite young and fresh when he is 160."

Sherbet at Its Best.
A sherbet made of extract of violets was much esteemed in the east, and Mohammed is reported to have said of it that it surpassed all other extracts. In some part of Europe it is customary to mingle violets, roses, and lime blossoms with preserves to add a flower element to the fruity flavor. In Egypt and Turkey violets are used in making sherbets as mint is employed in juleps in Kentucky.

Highest Aim of Good German is to Evolve a New Brand of "Wurst."

While in this country one may purchase many varieties of sausage, it is to Westphalia, Prussia, that we must look for the sausage in all its glory, says Harper's Weekly. There, it is said, a trader will name you no fewer than four hundred different kinds, and they present a bewildering array of diverse substances in their composition.

At a German sausage exhibition held not so long ago at Berne, in Switzerland, there were displayed 1,785 kinds of sausage from various countries. It is said that a good German would rather invent a new sausage than anything else. At any rate there is told the story of the young Prussian who, though he had received an expensive training as a chemist, shut himself up in his laboratory and, instead of devising a new dye, safety match, motor engine, explosive, aeroplane or photographic lens, took pork, veal, olives, pepper, fennel, old wine, cheese, apples, cinnamon and berries' roes, and from them evolved a wonderful and totally original "wurst," the best of its kind. He has amassed a considerable fortune from its sale.

Home of John Wehner at North Charleroi is Destroyed

By fire of unknown origin the bungalow of John Wehner on Center avenue, Lockview, with all its contents was destroyed this morning between 2 and 3 o'clock. Mr. Wehner and his wife and baby escaped in their nightclothes through a rear window. The loss is about $5,000 or $5,500 fully covered by insurance.

When Mr. Wehner and his family discovered the conflagration the house was enveloped in flames. By considerable effort they were able to work their way through to a rear window and edge their way out. An alarm was quickly spread, and the fire de- soon upon the scene. A distress call was sent in to the Charleroi fire department, and about 20 firemen under Chief J. M. Fleming, went from here to the scene of the fire.

It was an absolute impossibility to save the bungalow and efforts were turned toward saving other build- ings not far distant.

Mr. Wehner, who is a Macbeth- Evans worker built the bungalow last year. He equipped it handsomely, moving into the home the first of October. Previous to that he lived on Fallowfield avenue, Charleroi.

Insurance on the building and its contents was carried in two com- panies, one represented by H. C. Hep- ler, of Charleroi and the other by the Fayette City Real Estate company.

B. Frank Emery Arranges Program for Track Meet in August

B. Frank Emery, secretary of the Sandy Plains Fair Association, was over this way last week looking after the interests of the forthcoming fair which will be held at Sandy Plains Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, August 8, 9, and 10. The half mile track there is considered one of the best, and the purses to be distribut- ed will amount to over $1,950.

At the present time 23 head of horses are in the stables at the fair grounds training for the events. On Tuesday and Wednesday the asso- ciation will pull off five events each day, something unprecedented in county fair annals. These extra at- tractions are a big feature, and will add greatly to the interest.

The sight of boys fishing in the middle of the river from the dam at Lock No. 4 is a sight which greets people at that place nowadays. The dam is as dry as though water hadn't touched it for a year, except in places where the water manages to get through splash boards put up by gov- ernment employes some time ago in order to maintain full pools. The stage of water now at the lock is about 10 feet 3 inches. The pool can get as low as 8 feet 8 inches and if the dry spell continues there is a likelihood that it will be that low. To preserve the water as much as possible in the upper pools the splash boards were put on the dam.

LUTHERANS GET FLAG

All-Important Contest Goes to Mason's Team by Score of 4 to 3

EPISCOPALS FIGHT HARD

Snatching two runs in the seventh inning, after they had tied up the score the Lutherans beat the Episco- pals in the biggest and most import- ant struggle this year in the Church league race Wednesday evening. By the score of 4 to 3. A desperate ef- fort was made by the Episcopalists to pull things their own way in the seventh, but the best they could do was to get one lone tally. The only actual earned runs were on the Lutherans side of the fence—three of them. A better fielding game was played by the Episcopalists behind Bragg, who made the Lutherans hump to beat the band to win, than by the Lutherans behind Miller, who was also in rare slab form. Miller suffered the Episcopalists to get just five hits. The story of the game:

For the Episcopalists in the first Johnson was out on a bouncer to first. Righter singled to right. Kuhn sac- rificed. Guder hit a fly to right which Wertz suffered to pass through his gloved grabber and Righter scored. Guder stole second and went third on Fleming's error, scoring when Cratty tagged on the ball for two sacks.

After that there wasn't a man got farther than second base on either team until the fourth inning. Then Butz for the Lutherans hit a two bagger between first and second, stole third and waited until two had struck out. Stech doubled to right, Butz scoring. With Motts and Pat- ton to the tall and uncut by way of healthy swings at the atmosphere. Fleming got second when Montgom- ery let his fly drop. He scored on (Continued on Second Page).

WILL GO AHEAD WITH BROWNSVILLE BRIDGE

County Commissioners Hold Meeting and De- cide to Act Upon Advise of Court on the Matter

The county commissioners of the two counties in a joint conference at Brownsville Wed- nesday afternoon agreed to go ahead with the erection of the proposed new bridge over the river between West Brownsville and Brownsville on the old site.

All members of both boards of com- missioners were present. From this county there was Commissioner John A. Berry, Thomas Hill and W. J. Smith, and Solicitor Isaac W. Baum.

PHILADELPHIA FIRM GETS THE CONTRACT

Bridge Construction Over Monongahela River Near State Line to be Started At Once

WORK CONTINUES ON RAILROAD TO BUCKHANNON

It was officially announced Wednes- day that the Pittsburg & Lake Erie railroad extension from Martin to the West Virginia state line, where it connects with the Buckhannon & Northern railroad, will be completed within a year and in operation. This road's completion means the develop- ment of thousands of acres of Greene county and West Virginia coal.

The contract was let Wednesday for the masonry for the big steel bridge that is to span the Monon- gahela river at a point one mile south of the mouth of George's creek and one mile north of Dunkard Creek. The contract was let to McMenamin & Sims, a Philadelphia concern, and a large force of men will be put to work on the contract at once. The contracting firm expects to have piers and abutments of the bridge completed by December 1, this year. The contract for the superstructure will be let within 60 days. The bridge will be a double track steel structure.

The contract for the grading of the road from Martin to the West Virginia State line has not been let. The company figures that it can be built in four months and is in no hurry to give out this part of the contract.

In West Virginia work on the Buckhannon & Northern road is pro- gressing very rapidly. All the ma- sonary on the road has been complet- ed and nearly all the grading is done. The contractors will rush the work through the summer and fall and will work it as the weather will permit during the winter. This part of the contract will be completed long before August of next year.

In response to the inquiry of Ira L. Nickeson, secretary of the Char- leroi Board of Education, A. D. Glenn, deputy superintendent of Public Instruction has informed him regarding the levying of taxes, the vaccination law and the collection of taxes, as authorized by the new school code. There had been some misunderstanding of the code on these matters.

Mr. Glenn says that the tax is levied in the same manner this year as last year—it is done under the old law and the building and school taxes are levied separately and the oc- cupation tax is $1 on each male tax- able. There is no change in the vac- cination laws. The school tax will be collected under the new law which allows no rebates for prompt pay- ment and a penalty of five per cent is added for non-payment on the first of October.

Card of Thanks. We desire to thank our friends and neighbors for the kindly offices ten- dered during the recent sickness and death of our daughter. Those who made visitations and gave floral tributes are especially remembered with gratitude. Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Watts 299t1

Twilight Opens Its New Bridge

Celebration Being Held to Dedicate Structure Con- structed by County

Twilight people are celebrating to- day the opening of a new county bridge at that place. A basket pic- nic is a feature. People from vari- ous parts of the county are in at- tendance, among them being Richard G. Miller, Esq., of Washington, who is a candidate for district attorney. This afternoon there will be a num- ber of athletic events held.

WANT NEW NIGHT CARS

Petitions Being Signed for All-Night Service From Pittsburg

CIRCULATED GENERALLY

A petition is being circulated among Charleroi business men and citizens today, which when sufficient signatures have been secured will be presented with others circulated in other nearby towns, to the Pitts- burg Railway Company asking that an all night service be instituted be- tween Pittsburg and Charleroi. The all night service as petitioned for would require two more cars each way to and from the city. One to leave Pittsburg at 1.30 o'clock and another at 3.30 o'clock. Cars to leave this end at the same time or about the same time. At present the last car leaves Pittsburg at 11.30, and there are no other cars after that until 5.30 in the morning. It is ar- gued that the patronage would be sufficient to warrant the service.

Get Big Timbers. Timbers of an average length of 80 feet are being received at the government yards at North Charleroi now to be used in the construction of the new dredge boat. The tim- bers which come from Oregon are al- ready prepared for use. The longest are 85 feet.

Lawn Fete as Benefit. The Epworth League is planning a lawn fete to be held Friday evening on the lawn of H. J. Booth, Fifth street and Crest avenue. It will be held as a benefit for the Epworth league.

Will Hold Meeting Tonight. Representatives of the various Sunday Schools arranging for the union picnic and outing to be held at Eldora Park, August 3, will hold a meeting tonight at the Methodist Episcopal church at 8.30 o'clock.

Lewis Layton Supposed to Have Fallen From Float

Busy Mother Thought He Was Near Home Until She Went to Call Him

Playing about on a float in the river, it is supposed, Lewis Layton, the six year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Layton, of Belle Vernon, lost his balance and falling into the river was drowned Wednesday. No one saw the accident, which is supposed to have happened at about 10.50 o'clock.

The boy left home about 10 o'clock his mother thinking he was going out as usual to play with some other boys near the house. Being busy she took no particular notice of him, for the time being, but when she went to look for him to call him for dinner he was nowhere to be found. A search was instituted, but it was not thought that he had gone to the river. Not until some hours had passed was it learned that he had been seen going in that direction.

Then the work of dragging the river near an old float just above the Belle Vernon bridge was started and about 4 o'clock the little fellow's body was found. His mother was well nigh hysterical by this time, and the dis- covery of his body in the water only served to add to her grief.

Mr. Layton, who is a glass work- er was employed at Point Marion and way away. The boy was the only child of the Laytons, and a popular little fellow.

NORTH CHARLEROI HAS COMPLAINTS

Claimed That Health Laws Are Being Violated—Want Active Health Officer

According to a number of persons at North Charleroi an active health officer is needed, and needed badly. There is a Board of Health but ap- parently without the assistance of a health inspector or a health officer of some sort, the Board of Health can do little. Complaints have been made of stables and such things. Property owners claim that there is much need of a cleaning up and allege that State Health laws are being violated.

EPISCOPAL SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNICING

The Sunday School of the Episco- pal church is holding its annual pic- nic and outing at Beechwood park, near Speers today and there is a big number in attendance. Sports and games of various kinds was a feature. A basket dinner was also a feature.

UPHOLDING THE LAW.

From time to time the local chief
of police and other officials register
complaints that citizens do not support them in upholding and enforcing
the law, particularly the borough ordinances. It is charged that many indifferent citizens whenever they, or
any one in whom they are interested
come in conflict with any of the regulations, become most strenuous opponents of the officials whose duty
it is to compel enforcement. Only a short time ago the chief of police
was soundly berated by a couple of irate mothers because he endeavored
to compel their children to obey the
curfew law.

At this is contrary to the spirit of
citizenship as well as law and order.
The policeman or official who openly
permits friends or personal interests
to ignore the laws the officials are
sworn to enforce is most culpable
and becomes an offender himself
against the law. It is this spirit and
policy that has resulted in the corruption of cities and towns. The
citizen who expects the officials to
permit his children to disobey the
curfew law, or to permit one citizen
to disregard the provisions of the building or borough license ordinances while enforcing it on others, is in the same category as the one who
goes farther and attempts to corrupt the police by the payment of
money for protection of vicious institutions. There may be different
degrees of culpability, just as there
are different degrees in convictions
for murder, but one violation leads
up to another, and the policeman who
can ease his conscience sufficiently to
permit a friend or neighbor to wil-
fully violate an ordinance designed
for the protection of the public, can
usually go a little further and accept
perquisites for violations of a graver
nature.

It is up to every good citizen to
support the police and other officials
in the enforcement of the borough
ordinances. These are enacted for
the public good, and if it has been
found by experience that some of the
ordinances inflict a hardship instead
of a public benefit they should be

promptly repealed. No citizen is entitled to discrimination, and any attempt in this direction is an effort to
set law and order at defiance and is
diametrically opposed to the best interests of citizenship.

SCIENTIFIC MANAGEMENT.

We are reading much these days
about scientific management in business and industry, the management
that marks for increase of efficiency
and elimination of waste. It has
been a long accepted axiom of business that a large part of the cost in
the production of an article or commodity is waste—waste of time and
material—which has to be charged
up nevertheless to the cost price of
the commodity, and the consumer
pays for it all. The man who soldiers on the job and watches the
clock, and the one who is careless
and wastes a minimum of material
each day, are the ones who are putting up the cost of living just as
surely as the board of managers
who arbitrarily fix the selling price
of a commodity.

For instance, if one thousand men
are working in a factory, and each
one of them kills time to the amount
of ten minutes a day, the equivalent
of pay for twenty unproductive
eight-hour days has to be charged
up to the cost price of the commodity.
In a year the cost of unproductive
labor for which no return is given,
and which has to enter in the cost to
be paid for by the consumer, is enormous. If each one of these one
thousand workmen wastes two cents'
worth of material a day, the additional cost price to the product for
which no return is given amounts to
over $6,000 in a year which the consumer has to pay.

It is an effort to eliminate this
waste of time and material that has
led up to scientific management. It
cannot be made effective until all employees enter heartily into the spirit.
There is some opposition on the part
of workmen to try to adopt this system on the grounds that it will lead
to "speeding up," but it is a matter
of vital interest to every workman
as it enters very materially in the
cost of his living expenses.

A traveling man in town this week
relates a poker story that came under his observation a few nights ago
in a West Virginia town. When the traveler arrived in town late, he
sought one of his patrons it was essential to see that evening. Being
informed that the man was at a certain resort where congenial spirits
congregated to pass the time away,
he repaired thither, and dropped in
just as a quartet around the table—
his friend included—was making a
draw to open a jack pot. The traveling man's friend asked for three
cards, which were handed out. The
visitor overlooked his friend's
shoulder and observed that the latter
held two aces. Then when the
three cards were turned up they
showed two aces and a king, which
gave him four aces.

"Great Scott!" ejaculated the visitor, in amazement at the value of
the hand.

At this, each of the other three
of which exceeded the four aces. The
winner drew in the pot, which contained only about $25, but he remark-
ed to his friends:

"Look here, Smith, I'm awfully
glad to see you, but I wish you had
postponed your visit for half an hour.
I'd probably been a couple of hundred
more to the good on that pot if you
hadn't dropped in just when you did."

Dale Jolliffe pulled off one on John McIlvaine, when that popular ball
player departed last week for Piqua,
Ohio, to pitch for that team in the
O. & P. League. "Mac" was instructed to take a sleeping car from
Pittsburg, and as he has not travel-
ed much in that way Dale proceeded
to coach him.

"Watch the porter, Mac," said
Dale. "He's the guy that's after your coat. If you want to stand up and stretch, wait until the porter goes
into the next car. Just as surely as
he sees you standing up and stretching he'll come and brush you off, and
that will cost you a quarter."

"All right," said Mac. "I'll sneak
a fast one over on him when he ain't
looking."

"And another thing Mac," said

Dale, "if you appear sleepy and lean
back in the corner, the porter will
you another two bits."

"Do I keep the sack?" asked Mac.
"No, you have to return it."

"Well, he won't catch me napping.
If I draw a sack, it's got to count in
the game. You watch me. I'll make
a homer all right."

Why Is It Done?

This thing of appointing boys who
never saw a bridge built in their
lives and who do not know a lime-
stone from a sand stone as inspectors
of bridges is a species of waste which
the taxpayers should not tolerate.
The county will save money if a competent mechanic is selected to super-
vise the building of each bridge, even
if it is necessary to pay him more than is paid the boys. Likewise honest and experienced men should be chosen as road inspectors when it is
necessary that inspectors be employed.—Washington Observer.

Kuhn pulled off a pretty play in the fifth when he scooped Butz's drive. He hadn't any time to spare and made a beautiful peg to first getting that rapid Lutheran second baseman.
Kuhn hit to second and Butz captured Johnson at that corner. This performance put Bragg on third. Kuhn started to steal second and Fleming threw to Butz who mislaid the ball long enough for Bragg to come home. Butz threw wildly to the home pan and Kuhn went third. With Guder at bat, two out, and a man on third base the suffering of fans became intense. But there was little occasion for it. For the first time this season in that kind of a place Joe Guder failed, by putting up a foul fly which was easily captured. Score:

Miller's double. Then came the heart-rending strain. In the fifth Kuhn worked as far as third for the Episcopals, but at the crucial moment Guder hit a fly to second and spoiled his chance to score. Patton fouled out in the seventh. Fleming looked at one seriously enough to get a safety to left. He went second on Miller's sacrifice foul fly. Butz placed a solid boulder past first and Fleming scored. Butz stole second Joe Mason with his mighty black bat, a trusty weapon which has brought victory for his team more than once, stepped to the plate and calmly landed on the pill for two bases. Butz scored. Mason was caught third.

But the Episcopal half had something on them all for a heart-rending period. Miller suffered Bragg, first up, to go to first unmolested through a gift of four balls. Johnson was afforded the same opportunity. Butz struck out. Kuhn hit to second and Butz captured Johnson at that corner. This performance put Bragg on third. Kuhn started to steal second and Fleming threw to Butz who mislaid the ball long enough for Bragg to come home. Butz threw wildly to the home pan and Kuhn went third. With Guder at bat, two out, and a man on third base the suffering of fans became intense. But there was little occasion for it. BASEBALL BINGLES

Oh! somewhere in this favored land
The sun is shining bright,
And somewhere there is joyousness
And somewhere is delight!
And somewhere the band is playing
And somewhere the people shout,
But there's no joy 'mong Episcopals
For McCloskey has fanned out!

With Apologies to Casey

All hail the new Church League Champions—the Lutherans!

Last night after a terrific grapple with last year's Champs, Manager McCloskey's Episcopals, the Lutherans flung the 1911 pennant to the breeze with a loud huzza.

Over 700 howling fans attended last evening's session and they surely got their money's worth. Joe Mason's warriors were again greatly weakened by the absence of the first baseman, Charles Mason, while the Episcopals presented their very strongest front of the season. Nevertheless the Lutheran braves dashed into the fray with their well-known never-say-die spirit, and after the Episcopals had acquired what looked like a winning lead—back came Joe Mason's peppery cohorts and by a beautiful rally in the final inning snatched victory and the pennant all in one swoop. "Eddie" Butz and "Joe" Mason swatted Bragg for the fatal bingles which decided the 1911 championship in the Charleroi Church League.

The largest crowd of the season was at the game.

Jenkins was out of the struggle for the Episcopals. Hess, formerly of the Washington Avenues, being at second bag.

Wertz dropped Guder's fly, but how it managed to slip through his hands is a question. They are usually in a well when they go in his direction.

Patton made a nice catch of Montgomery's fly to deep left-middle.

Sharkey seemed to be a trifle rusty in left.

Of all the funny antics pulled off in any game this season, Joe Mason's caper in the sixth was the most peculiar. Bragg heaved a wild one to the inside of the plate which came near hitting the Lutheran coach. Joseph or Herbert, as his real name looks in print, deliberately walked across the plate and gently laid down on the outside. The stunt was done partly to relieve the tension of his pitcher. He was presented with a walk.

The Episcopals had a mascot—little Billie Atkins, son of William H. Atkins of Berryman's store. The little fellow had on a suit and carried bats and threw balls to his heart's content. He attracted attention but couldn't seem to bring victory.

YOUR KIDNEYS NEED CLEANING

Every Person, Healthy or Unhealthy, Ought to Give the Kidneys a Thorough Cleaning Right Now.

You clean your teeth daily. You wouldn't think of doing otherwise, and yet the teeth are not one tenth so important to health, strength and a long life as the kidneys.

Do you know that the kidneys are little strainers or fine sieves, through which every drop of blood in the body passes again and again.

And when the kidneys become clogged they are unable to strain the impure matter from the blood and it stays in the blood and causes disease in various parts of the body. Take rheumatism, for instance, this terrible disease is caused by uric acid in the blood, and uric acid gets into the blood only when the kidneys are clogged up and are unable to properly strain the impurities.

Just go to W. F. Hennings' today and get a bottle of Thompson's Barosma, the most scientific kidney, liver and bladder regulator the world has ever known, take it regularly for two weeks and all the impure matter in your kidneys will pass out through the bladder and your kidneys will be as pure and clean and healthy as any kidneys can be.

Thompson's Barosma is guaranteed by W. F. Hennings' to cure all diseases of the kidneys, liver, and bladder, or money back. It is a wonderful tonic and blood purifier and will bring the glow of health to the cheeks of the sick in a short time. 50 cents and $1.00 a bottle. All druggists.

Owes Health and Happiness

to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Scottville, Mich.—"I want to tell you how much good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done me. I live on a farm and have worked very hard. I am forty-five years old, and am the mother of thirteen children. Many people think it strange that I am not broken down with hard work and the care of my family, but I tell them of my good friend, your Vegetable Compound, and that there will be no backache and dragging pains for them if they will take it as I have. I am scarcely ever without it in the house."

"I will say also that I think there is no better medicine to be found for young girls to build them up, regulate, and make them well. My eldest daughter has taken the Compound for painful, irregular periods, and it has always helped her."

"I am always ready and willing to speak a good word for the Lydia E. Pinkham's Remedies. I tell every one I meet that I owe my health and happiness to these wonderful medicines."—Mrs. J. G. Johnson, Scottville, Mich., R. F. D. 3.

When shown such positive and reliable proof that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound really does cure such cases wouldn't any sensible woman conclude that the same remedy would also benefit her if suffering the same?

MORE GENUINE AND CONVINCING PROOF:

Elwood, Ind.—"I was sick three months and could not walk. I suffered all the time. I tried doctors, and they said I could not get well without an operation. I could hardly stand the pain, but my right side was the worse. I couldn't sleep at night, and I was troubled with a weakness. "Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured me. I began to feel better when I had taken only one bottle, but I kept on until I was cured."—Mrs. Sadie Mullen, 2728 N. B. Street, Elwood, Ind.

What more proof can any one ask?

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health free of charge. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

To Live 140 Years.
 According to the logic and evidence of comparative zoology, is 140 years—and even this is not the limit.

Life is a promise; more due one day after date, payable on demand, but by right living we can defer payment almost indefinitely. Eminent scientists tell us that—
 The life of the bones is 5,000 years.
 The life of the lungs is 1,500 years.
 The life of the skin is 900 years.
 The life of the liver is 400 years.
 The life of the kidneys is 300 years.
 The life of the heart is 300 years.
 If 300 years is the life of the heart, then one could not have the heart to live after that.

Sherbet at Its Best.
 A sherbet, made of extract of violets was much esteemed in the east, and Mohammed is reported to have said of it that it surpassed all other extracts. In some parts of Europe it is customary to mingle violets, roses, and lime blossoms with preserves to add a flower element to the fruity flavor. In Egypt and Turkey violets are used in making sherbets as mint is employed in juleps in Kentucky.

Highest Aim of Good German is to Evolve a New Brand of "Wurst."

While in this country one may purchase many varieties of sausage, it is to Westphalia, Prussia, that we must look for the sausage in all its glory, says Warner's Weekly. There it is said, a trader will name you no fewer than four hundred different kinds, and they present a bewildering array of divers substances in their composition.

At a German sausage exhibition held not so long ago at Berne, in Switzerland, there were displayed 1,755 kinds of sausage from various countries. It is said that a good German would rather invent a new sausage than anything else. At any rate there is told the story of the young Prussian who, though he had received an expensive training as a chemist, shut himself up in his laboratory and, instead of devising a new dye, safety match, motor engine, explosive, aeroplane or photographic lens, took pork, veal, olives, pepper, fennel, old wine, cheese, apples, cinnamon and her rings' roses, and from them evolved a wonderful and totally original "wurst," the best of its kind. He has amassed a considerable fortune from its sale.
